SUSTAINABLE AND SOCIAL IMPACT EVENTS

OPTION 1:

Windfarm

Windfarm is a multifaceted concept that brings the core idea of "sustainability" to life.

This event combines two varied activities: the construction of a wind turbine, taking into account the carbon footprint of the structure, and a tablet-based game with fun facts and challenges relating to the topic of sustainability.

With the points scored, the teams offset their ecological footprint.

The team that ultimately has a functioning device with the best carbon footprint is the winning team!

OPTION 2: SolarBuddy

Solar lights against energy poverty

Learn, act, help:
The social impact and sustainability event.

789 million people on our planet live in extreme energy poverty. That's one in 10 people!

We will educate you about energy poverty in developing countries - and take action together: Together we will build solar lights, which will then be distributed by NGOs to children in developing countries. This is how your help makes a real difference.

OPTION 3: EcoBuddy

Digital inclusion through solar power

In small teams, you will build an EcoBuddy, a modular and complex solar system that is much more than just a source of energy. It connects people in developing countries, who often have to live without electricity, with each other and with the world. For these families, digital inclusion means more than just charging their devices for everyday use. It opens up opportunities.

You experience real and focused commitment together with your colleagues - and make a real difference to safety, education and possibilities. This experience connects!

REAL IMPACT:

MEDICINE

Medical professionals are often concentrated in urban centres, leaving people in rural areas without access to medical care. Technology enables these communities to communicate with each other and receive advice and help from doctors in the centres.

LABOUR AND INNOVATION

Digital inclusion ensures improved working conditions, e.g. through new, local sales opportunities, fairer pricing through transparency or more diverse payment options.

EDUCATION AND EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

Access to stable electricity means new opportunities for teachers and students (especially girls) to provide and receive education.

CLEAN ENERGY

Solar energy is always a contribution to the fight against climate change. For example, the solar system replaces toxic and harmful paraffin lamps.

OPTION 4: Green Creative Workshops

Unleash the creative energy of your staff!

Think outside the box and use a variety of materials and vibrant colours to create stunning creations.

This is a great way to playfully contribute to biodiversity conservation - and you can take your work home and give nature a new home!

Worldwide, 40% of all insect species are now threatened with extinction. The number of farmland birds in Europe has fallen by 57% since 1980.

Let's work together for more
living spaces.
As a team.

These are the results:

Alternative: We build mini greenhouses!

Participants will get creative and make a mini greenhouse.

These can either be taken back home by the participants or be donated to kindergartens after the event.

The children's eyes will light up when they receive flowers, vegetables and fruit!

OPTION 5: The Hand Project

Providing people who have lost one or both hands with more dignity and possibilities in their lives

The Hand Project Team Events change lives – not only the lives of the beneficiaries and their families, but also of the participants.

Experience is a truly unique CSR team building opportunity for organisations to assemble real functional prosthetic hands for people in developing countries.

EMPOWERMENT THROUGH TEAMWORK

Assembling prosthetic hands together

The Hand Project enables YOU and YOUR TEAM to make a real difference in the world and, at the same time, build team morale, cohesion and purpose.

Positive Difference

The knowledge that you have made a real positive difference in someone's life. Functional prosthetic hands enable recipients to better do the everyday things that we take for granted.

Feel Good Factor

Your team will feel good about themselves, their colleagues, their company and what they have all accomplished together. This is not just a short-term feeling – this event will be remembered for months and years to come.

Raise Awareness

A raised awareness of what it is like to live with a disability and, thus, empathy with people less fortunate than us. When linked to 'purpose' the event may also raise awareness of each person's purpose within your company and the company's purpose overall.

What our participants say...

Life time experience...

Makes you think at least for a moment that you should take
NOTHING FOR GRANTED!

Thank you!

Your Thoughts / Ihre Gedanken...

This is one of the oddest projects I have learned about and probably the most valuable one that I have been a part of. It was an honour to build the hand and I sincerely hope that good things will come of it.
I also liked the idea to turn this into a teambuilding event. It was fun!

CREATIVE AND EXTRAORDINARY EVENTS

OPTION 6: Picture Perfect

Create something great together:

Picture Perfect is a new and exciting team building event where you create a unique piece of art together. It's not just about paint and brushes - it's about communication, collaboration and fun!

Creative challenges, skilful coordination and strategic communication not only create a stunning picture, but also a lasting sense of community!

Create the perfect piece of art!

We lay the creative foundations before the event: together we decide on a theme that serves as a source of inspiration.

At the event, we work in small teams to develop the first sketches. Team spirit is required: What is the best way to implement the theme? Which perspectives can be included?

Then it gets exciting: each team presents its sketch. In the big team vote, the participants then choose their favourite - the idea with the most votes will become the template for the final artwork!

Create the perfect piece of art!

Then it's time to paint - but with a twist:
the chosen sketch is placed 20 metres away - and only one person per team is allowed to go and memorise the details and pass them back to the team.

With this information, the teams will paint all the parts of the big artwork on several canvases, which will later be put together like a mosaic.

Will the challenge be successful?

OPTION 7: The Big Picture

In 'The Big Picture', a different creative challenge awaits the whole group: participants work together to create an impressive piece of art - without knowing in advance what it will look like in the end!

The final motif is agreed in advance. The choice is yours: You can either take inspiration from our catalogue or we can create a bespoke design to suit you.

Then the challenge begins: at the event itself, the group is given sketches to use as templates for small canvases.

It is now up to them to match the transitions and colours neatly, and put the puzzle pieces together correctly!
